The Emblem

The very emblem of the college projects different meanings of life.

The sun rise in the emblem symbolises dispelling of darkness of ignorance and bringing light of knowledge. The wheel in the middle stands for progress of the college. The open book obviously symbolises education for all.

All pictures in the second row are all but in a rural setting. For example the hut stands for shelter place for a poor man. The rye of wheat corn symbolises cultivation of the pastoral people. And the bullock stands for the best friend of a farmer. The zigzag lines stand for earth to sustain the above symbols.

The sentence, “ Bidyaya bindateamrutam” means learning bestows the nectar of life.

HISTORY

Surrounded by hills and mountains, rivers and rivulets, flora and fauna, Gokul-Parvati Rural College Kuntara was born in 1978 in a small private house called "KUTALI" so called a mill.

The Concept of dreaming of a college by that time in a remotest village like Kuntara stroke in the minds of the Intellectuals like this. A meeting was organised informally under a banyan tree in front of the old college building among all educationists, social workers and other elite mass of this locality. Late. Surendra Nath Sharma Retired I.A.S Officer of nearby village Jalibahal acted like an advisor. Besides him late. Minaketan Patel former Principal of Kuchinda College Kuchinda , Late. Prafulla Chandra Patel Kuntara, the founding father of the college, Late. Manohar Patel Kuntara, Late. Kamal Lochan Patel Kuntara, Late. Raghunath Meher former Head Master Manohar High School Kuntara, Late. Chudamani Patel Kusumi, Late. Somanath Patel Kuntara, Late Khadi Mahakul, Bomleikela, Late Lalit Mohan Naik, Dumbermal, Late Ratan Singh Patel, Rngiatikira, Sri Debadatta Panda, Sri Prahallad Acharya were present in the meeting. The other prominent villagers who were present to encourage the meeting were Late. Rasanand Patel , Sri Bhubaneswar Patel, late Sri Duryodhan Pandey and Sri Surendra Patel.

The great and praise worthy person who donated a sum of one lakh rupees as fixed deposit for opening of the college was Late. Gokuleswar Patel(H) Kantapali Jharsuguda after whom the college was named Gokul Parvati Rural College , Kuntara. Parvati being his consort.

Other some benevolent and land donors who donated land in the name of the college were Late. Dillip Nayak, Late. Chaitanya Nayak, Late. Hrushikesh Nayak of neighbouring village Pandaripathar. The College has 5.47 acres of land of its own. It is 22 km away from the sub-divisional head quarter Kuchinda and 60 km from the South- Eastern railway at Bamra station.

Now the new college building is situated amongst thick and green foliage at the outskirts of the village Kuntara by the side of the PWD road which runs from Paruavadi to Brahmanidihi, a length of 35 k.m., totally in a pastoral setting.

The college has been set up to cater to the educational needs of the masses especially poor people belonging to schedule Tribe and Schedule Castes. The college imparts education both in +2 Arts and Science and +3 Arts streams.

The college is affiliated to Sambalpur University, Jyoti Vihar Burla, Odisha.

It has a number of class rooms , staff and Students' common rooms, Laboratories, a separate principal's room , two +3 ladies' hostels one being funded by UGC and another one by ONGC and a big playground.

The college is proud of having qualified and well experienced teachers along with some young energetic teachers.
