THE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM IN INDIA: CAUSES AND CONSEQUENCES

Abstract

This paper examines the cause of unemployment in India in current market scenario. The main purpose of this study is to examine the relationship between some macroeconomic variables and unemployment in India; specifically, it focuses on the impact of some macroeconomic variables on unemployment. Based on these findings, the study therefore recommends that government should as a matter of urgency create more employment opportunities in order to absorb the teeming population of the unemployed work force in the country through modernization of the agricultural sector, bring in modern equipment in the facilities of agriculture to make the sector more attractive to all citizens despite one's qualifications and profession. This paper also suggests some measure to overcome of these burning problems of unemployment. According to ILO & UN Report the present unemployment rate is 3.5 percent in 2018. The paper also suggests and recommends some points to overcome of this current situation of unemployment prevailing in India.
